By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, March 15.—(AP)—The Communist party newspaper Pravda, only morning newspaper published in Moscow on Monday, today reflected none of the news shown in other capitals of the world concerning the present international situation.

Pravda's main editorial, headed "Stalin plan will be put into effect," was an attempt to mention the present success of the premier's new industrial program designed to boost production of steel high levels.

Most of the inside pages of the six-page issue were devoted to discussion among delegates to the supreme Soviet to the new five-year plan, which calls for research and development of atomic power, and for industrial production of 1500 of the 15 times the pre-war level.

The situation in the Middle East was conspicuously absent from columns devoted to the principal news.

None of the reports, rumors, demands and contradictions which came out of Tehran last week were reflected in the press here. There also has been no suggestion that the Iran case might be presented at the forthcoming meeting of the United Nations Security Council in New York.

A recent article in the government newspaper Izvestia, accusing Iran of having broken a Soviet-Iranian treaty of 1921 by granting concessions to foreign imperialism, still was the main topic of conversation on the subject of Iran.

TASS DISPATCHES in London quoted the newspaper Iran Mercury as saying that the editor of the Tehran newspaper Farshad was "murdered" March 11 in the justice ministry building by two men.

The dispatch said the editor, Kaveh, and his secretary were being examined by a magistrate on a complaint against the party's alleged anti-Moslem utterances.

Pravda gave prominent display to a dispatch in which the New York Herald-Tribune was quoted as saying the U.S. was vital to preserving peace in the British Empire, Denmark, Iceland, Sweden and elsewhere.

Children Continue To Play on River

Despite repeated warnings issued by Chief Constable Reg. Jennings against children playing on the banks of the North Saskatchewan River, a number of youngsters were charged from their dangerous play on the banks of the river.

FOUR SMALL boys were found playing on the ice near open water at the Low Level bridge, where the river flows under the bridge, and were kept their children away from the river.

A number of boys were observed playing in the same place on Saturday, but had left before police arrived following a phone message from a street railway car.

City police also received complaints that boys were playing with guns and arrows in the 60th and 100 avenue district. One complaint reported that the boys had been struck on the face with an arrow.

Other youngsters trying out their throwing arm, hurled stones through two side windows in the Alex Taylor public school.

Goering asserted that Hitler got his idea of attempted overthrow through a "mistake in transmission" of a message between the Vatican and Berlin. He did not amplify the claim.

GOERING'S TESTIMONY contrasted sharply with the efforts of most of the other defendants to show that they secretly opposed Hitler and attempted to overthrow him.

When Justice Jackson suggested that the other defendants were hastened by killing Hitler, Goering declared that he would have been used up to the last minute as reprisals for attacks on the United States.

GOERING SAID he considered the war hopeless in January, 1945, after the Russian broke through at the Oder and the German offensive collapsed in January, 1945.

Asked why V-bombs were used after the war was considered lost, Goering said: "As a soldier I could only regret we had not enough of these V-bombs."

He denied that he ever said he set the Reichstag on fire. He said he was present at an affidavit from Gen. Franz Halder and read a charge that Goering had set the Reichstag on fire.

Moscow Paper Says:

North Iranian Oil Fields Held Vital to Red Security

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, March 15.—(AP)—The newspaper Izvestia declared Saturday that northern Iran oil fields were of "primary importance" to Russian security and charged that Iran four times broke the Soviet-Iranian treaty of 1921 by granting to United States and British firms oil concessions.

THE MOSCOW PAPER said that when Russia in 1944 proposed renewal of her former oil concessions in the Persian Gulf, Iran refused to grant them, and instead granted concessions to American and British firms.

GOERING'S TESTIMONY contrasted sharply with the efforts of most of the other defendants to show that they secretly opposed Hitler and attempted to overthrow him.

Bevin Pleads For

End of Aggression

By EDDY GILMORE

PORT TALBOT, Wales, March 15.—(Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Bevin Saturday night appealed in parliament for "all countries" to eschew aggression, "either by propaganda or wars of aggression."

THE SPEECH came at a dinner meeting his offer of a 50-year treaty of friendship with Russia.

GOERING'S TESTIMONY contrasted sharply with the efforts of most of the other defendants to show that they secretly opposed Hitler and attempted to overthrow him.

OTTAWA, March 15.—Edmonton was very much to the fore—and why not?—when the Athletes made their Canadian farewells here on Saturday.

and Catholic Central parties, as well as ministers drawn from the Nazi military personnel to fill army, navy and defence portfolios.

"BASICALLY SPEAKING, the most important elements in the conspiracy tended toward conservatism and for the most part were misanthropic of both the Soviet Union and the German Reich," said Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, former mayor of Leipzig, pre-war leader of staff, was to have been chief of state in the new government with Adolf Hitler as chieftain. Field Marshal Gen. Erwin von Witzleben, one-time commander of the German Army in the West, was to have been commander of the armed forces.

The dispatch said the plot to remove Hitler began in 1938 when the Fuehrer removed Field Marshal Gen. Werner von Blomberg and Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch from their positions as minister and army commander, respectively, following a quarrel.

"THE DISPATCH WENT ON to relate the chain of incidents in which German military leaders in the Fuehrer removed Field Marshal Gen. Werner von Blomberg and Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch from their positions as minister and army commander, respectively, following a quarrel.

"Even Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel, first great Nazi leader, gave his considerable help to Hitler and entered the Fuehrer's ranks after a violent interview with the Fuehrer in July 1944, when Hitler refused Rommel's demands to execute the Nazis immediately," the dispatch said.

"WITHIN A WEEK ROMMEL was wounded by a fighter plane and later he was removed from hospital by Gestapo agents who allowed him to poison himself to avoid trial.

"The chief of intelligence staff, Admiral (Wilhelm) Canaris, who, contrary to all evidence that he is dead, is believed by some well-informed persons to be still alive and in hiding—and the head of the central bureau, Maj. Gen. Hans Oster, were immediately important to the conspiracy.

"Gen. Oster was in charge of intelligence and provided numerous false credentials for the plot around Germany and into foreign capitals."

"CLERGY CLERICS ALSO took a quiet but useful part, among them were Michael von Preysing of Berlin, then Bishop of Berlin, Bishop Theophil Wurm of Wuerzburg, and a few members of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits).

"The Rev. Dietrich Bonhoeffer and Dr. Hans Schemm, who were attached to the World Council of Churches at Geneva, also were among those who sought foreign support—in this case British—for the conspiracy.

"In May, 1942, they visited Sweden to see . . . the Bishop of Clichester. Mr. Bonhoeffer gave the bishop a list of the chief plotters, which was passed on to Mr. Eden. However, the foreign minister refused to take action on the ground that it might make the Soviet Union suspicious."

"MR. BONHOEFFER was murdered by the SS in April, 1945. "The most important intellectual group in the opposition centred about the faculty in Freiburg university, who had strong idealistic and moral grounds for opposition to Nazism."

"At first it was hoped that it would not be necessary to assassinate Hitler, but that he and the Nazi leaders could be arrested and tried."

"However, after (Gestapo) Chief Himmler began to suspect the intelligence section and followed the general's refusal at the last minute to cooperate in the plan to renounce allegiance to Hitler, a political attempt was agreed upon especially to release officers from their personal oath of allegiance to Hitler."

"THE FIRST ATTEMPT at assassination came in the spring of 1943 and was arranged by Lt. Gen. Joachim von Tretlow and Col. von Schlabendorff. Col. von Schlabendorff, who is one of the few important plotters still alive, said that he had put a time bomb in a briefcase in Hitler's airplane when he had visited the Fuehrer at his eastern front headquarters. The mechanism failed to detonate, Col. von Schlabendorff said, and he managed to get the briefcase out of the plane before it was discovered."

"Count Klaus von Stauffenberg was assigned to this political murder and he planned to leave a similar bomb briefcase in a room where Hitler had scheduled a conference with his generals in December, 1943. The conference, however, was cancelled at the last minute."

"IN JULY, 1944, at least three more attempts, all of exactly the same nature, were tried out. For some curious reason Count von Stauffenberg carried an explosive briefcase to conference with the Fuehrer on July 6, 12 and 16 but each time the apparatus was undetonated because too many other important Nazis were absent from the meetings."

"However, by July 20 it became obvious to the conspirators' own general staff that action must be taken regardless of circumstances. It was evident that the Gestapo had learned of the plot and it was decided to murder him at Rastenburg."

"THE PLOT went wrong from the start. The bomb failed to Carl Orstad, 11109 107 avenue, and Joseph P. McBride, 105 Thelene Block, were cancelled for three months' periods and a third was placed on the interdiction list. All four were fined $40 and costs each.

Requests by both Mr. McBride and Mr. Orstad that they be allowed to retain their driving licenses to use to get to work were turned down by Magistrate Miller. "It won't hurt you to use a street car," was his quick retort.

THE MAGISTRATE told Mr. Scott he could either have his name placed on the interdiction list or have his license cancelled. "Accident Charles Simmonds, president, will think that that won't happen when he is chairman."

ing incommunicado persons held for questioning in connection with the investigation.

Mr. King's statement on the investigation will be made Monday during a debate on the address in reply to the Throne Speech. John Brocken, Progressive Conservative leader, will lead off the debate and is expected to make lengthy remarks to the spy ring.

The prime minister will follow and then the floor will go in turn to Mr. Caldwell and Solicitor General of the Social Credit Party.

PROF. ROSE (Lab-Prop-Montreal Carlier), the member charged with providing secret and confidential information to Russia, is expected to be in his seat during the debate. He said in Montreal after being released on bail Friday that he planned to attend the sittings.

Mr. King is understood to have some questions that he will want answered in the caucus. He is believed to be anxious to sound out opinion of the Liberal members on the recent loss to the United Kingdom.

He is expected to direct his questions in particular to those Quebec members who during the war years opposed the granting of financial aid to the United Kingdom.

REPORTS HAVE BEEN spreading that a number of Quebec members are planning to oppose the loan on the grounds that the terms are too generous.

Mr. C. G. Power, who resigned as air minister during the conscription crisis in November, 1944, has planned on the order paper a number of questions dealing with loan terms.

His questions were aimed in particular at how agreement was reached for cancellation of the $425,000,000 United Kingdom debt to share of the cost of the British Commonwealth training plan. Maj. Power piloted the plan from its infancy to the time he left the cabinet.

Atomic Scientists Leave For Pacific

LOS ALAMOS, N.M., March 18.—(AP)—Departure of the advance guard of scientists from the Los Alamos atomic bomb project for the Pacific was announced by the United States army yesterday. The small group will be followed by a technical staff of around 125 for the Bikini Atoll experiments in May and June.

Packing Plant Controls End

OTTAWA, March 18.—(CP)—Government control of packing plants dating back to Oct. 11, 1943, when a strike threatened a wheat dispute, formally ended Sunday.

Labor Minister Mitchell announced last night. Three companies—Canadian Packers Ltd., Burns and Co. Ltd., and Swift Canadian Co. Ltd.—were concerned in the dispute with the United Packinghouse Workers (CIO).

Mr. Mitchell said that the companies were planning to oppose the loan on the grounds that the terms are too generous.

Grain Reduction To Hit Distillers

VANCOUVER, March 18.—(CP)—Officials of two leading distillers here said last night the 50 per cent cut in wheat supplies to distillers announced by Prime Minister King would mean a major reduction of profit.

E. J. Klein, managing director of United Distillers Limited, said wheat is the main ingredient for spirits and "unless we are able to obtain some substitute there will automatically be a 40 to 50 per cent reduction in saloonage."

CORN COULD BE used, but this is unavailable unless restrictions on imports of grain are eased, he added.

Roy F. MacGregor, vice-president of Seagram's Distillers (Western) Limited, also said a major production decrease will result "but the distillers will just have to make the best of it, until better conditions get a little better."

Mr. MacGregor said that the distillers will just have to make the best of it, until better conditions get a little better.

MEN OF VISION

Calvert—1622

Macdonald—1891

More than a century ago, from Scotland came the boy destined to be the first Prime Minister of Canada. Lawyer at twenty-one; statesman at twenty-nine; a maker of laws; the full maturity of his genius created a nation—Canada. Statesman and leader—inspired in the cause of unity—chief architect of Confederation—here was a man of vision, a clear-headed Canadian.

In 1891 Sir John A. MACDONALD said:

"Foster and Develop the Dominion"

In 1622 CALVERT said:

"The Force of their Imagination Led Them"

Man of vision in the 17th century . . . founder of historic colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland . . . Calvert said to his settlers three centuries ago: "Preserve Unity and Peace."

"I see the future . . . it is a good country," wrote Calvert in the early 1600's. Well may it be that thus he prophesied Canada's bountiful nationhood.

Famous English statesman and pioneer,

Secretary of State to King James I. Calvert's ideals of unity have been shared by all men of vision through the centuries since Calvert's time. Today . . . every Canadian can be a man of vision. Let each by his own efforts "foster and develop the Dominion."

Upon unity of purpose depends the full measure of our stature as a nation. There is only one Canada for clear-headed Canadians.

Iran Prepared To Negotiate On Oil Rights

By JOHN A. PARRIS

LONDON, March 18.—(AP)—Iranian embassy officials in London said today that Iran was prepared to negotiate oil concessions with Russia only on condition that Soviet troops leave the country.

An embassy spokesman said he could neither confirm nor deny reports that Premier Ahmad Qavam was not negotiating with the Russians in Tehran, he said it was "highly improbable" in view of an Iranian law prohibiting oil talks until foreign troops were evacuated.

Embassy officials said there were no Iranian objections to Russia having oil concessions in northern Iran.

Both Britain and the United States are understood to hold the view that they should be given an opportunity to negotiate oil concessions on an equal basis with Russia or any other power.

WHEN THE IRANIAN government approved the law prohibiting negotiations until after the war, the United States government asked Iran to notify the state department on resumption of oil concession talks to insure that United States interests would have been protected.

One of the Russian objections is that since Britain holds oil concessions in southern Iran, the Soviet Union will be allowed to share the country.

THE BRITISH AUTHORITIES are understood to have no objection to Russia being given concessions but they support the Iranian view that Soviet troops should first leave the country.

The Yorkshire Post said today "it may well be that some form of joint three-power control of the oil fields between Britain, Iran, Britain and Russia might help to remove inter-power rivalry to secure oil resources."

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS is responsible for the foundation and vast expansion of Canadian pulp, paper and newspaper industry. Without it our immense forest lands might never have provided employment for thousands of people. Today Canada is the world's largest exporter of newsprint and one of the chief producers and exporters of fine papers.

When Confederation Life Association was founded seventy-five years ago, Canada's pulp and newspaper industries were small. Newspaper production (as we know it today) was almost nonexistent. Fine papers were chiefly imported. The manufacture of newsprint is a development of the past forty years.

By its investments Confederation Life helped materially in the development of the newspaper industry. Not only that, but Confederation Life has carried the benefits of forest lands to workers in pulp and paper mills. Subsequently a Complete Group Insurance Service was made available through companies to their employees.

German Black Market Gang Steals Whole Train of Coal

By TOM REEDY

HERFORD, March 18.—(AP)—The black market now is organized so cleverly in Germany that a gang was able to steal an entire trainload of coal in the Ruhr, transport it 200 miles to Aachen, near the North Sea, and swap it for potatoes.

THIS FLAGRANT CASE was disclosed by a British military government officer whose position forbids his quotation by name.

The officer said the remarkable theft of hundreds of tons of coal was only one example of the "brilliant" behind the black market.

Obviously, these gangs are reaching into high railroad circles," he said. "They must have connections with Germans who have been retained to run the rails."

Some gangs have been caught on the highways through systematic road checks. Since these checks have been intensified, though, the marketeers have taken to the back roads where it is almost impossible to track them down.

THIS SENIOR officer told a reporter that the police effort must be concentrated on the big operators.

"Frankly, right now we don't think the Germans can live without the black market," he said. "I mean the little operators where a farmer gets permission from the burgomaster to slaughter more than a certain number of pigs for the train of events. A piece of pork is traded for some clothing. The clothing goes to someone else for cigarettes. The cigarettes bring whisky, perfume. The whisky is traded to still another person for perhaps a piece of pork. It depends what a person needs."

"Those little transactions never get out of the loop. What we are trying to do is to keep the thing from getting out of hand."

Beer in New York Going Under Ration SYRACUSE, N.Y., March 18.—(AP)—The New York State Wholesale Beer Distributors' Association voted Saturday to ration beer under the shortage created by the government's food conservation order.

REVENUE ANTICIPATED from the different departments, with the exception of the city architect's where an increase of $23,000 is expected, is estimated to be below the actual of 1945 when $201,232.38 was collected. This year the revenue from these departments is expected to yield $40,125.

Revenue from general tax levy may be increased substantially if legislation now before the provincial legislature is passed in time to permit the increase of taxation in the 20-mill zone for this year's budget. City Commissioner John Hodgson is working with City Assessor Thomas Walker on revision of the rolls in anticipation of the legislation being passed in time, and it is expected that city council will be asked to strike a mill rate for the outer zone of approximately 42 mills.

Mystery Torso Puzzles Police

HAMILTON, March 18.—(CP)—A blond-haired shirt, sleeves and two bullet holes, last night gave police a possible clue to the identity of the man whose torso was found Saturday under a moss-covered ledge near Hamilton's scenic mountain road.

A civic works department employee on a routine patrol Sunday was found the torso on the mountain and turned it over to police. Its arms had been cut off.

IT WAS EXPECTED efforts would be made to trace its owner through laundry marks.

Police kept the weekend in a fruitless search of the mountain area for missing parts of the body and school children found the hiker to Mount Albion Falls Saturday.

The despoiled torso was clad only in long underwear. Police said the arms and legs of the torso appeared to have been cut off at the same time as the body's limbs.

Food Plan

of wheat and wheat products is to be encouraged.

Modification of regulations affecting bulk shipments of flour and feed is planned.

Priorities for transport of wheat export have been established.

Increased quantities of oats and No. 4 wheat to be made available for export if possible.

Wheat available for domestic milling is being reduced by 10 per cent on the basis of 1945 purchases.

Wheat for distilling is being reduced by 60 per cent on the basis of amounts used in 1945.

Special arrangements are being made to encourage immediate marketing of wheat stored on farms.

Of this program, the prime minister said:

"THE GOVERNMENT believes that, if productive efforts are maintained, the additional measures vigorously supported, and people of all professions and occupations alike, will make available the utmost quantity of foodstuffs of this nation. It is our belief that people can produce to help meet the needs of people in less fortunate parts of the world."

These steps, said Mr. King, were designed not only to maintain the country's present level of production but also "specifically to make it possible for the wheat available for export."

He said the 10-per cent reduction in wheat available for domestic milling was being made in order to release flour for export.

OBSERVERS SAW in this step a reduction in the wheat available for export of wheat products for Canadian consumers.

It should produce an extra 2,500,000 bushels of wheat during the next six months in the use of wheat products and in the use of wheat products.

After careful review, Mr. King said, he had decided to make a preference from the point of view of the country's food supply.

Any increase in the extraction rate in the milling of flour.

"WE STRONGLY URGED the Canadian people to eliminate waste in their use of wheat products to reduce their consumption thereof. The present step is a Canadian step in many alternatives and substitutes will permit us to get along on less bread and wheat products without any injury to the level of nutrition."

The food wasted by a good many families would keep a child alive in the use of wheat products.

The government is undertaking a publicity campaign designed to encourage the saving of wheat products.

Mr. King suggested if Canadian families would save their own home gardens, thereby increasing production of wheat products, it would be a good step.

"CAREFUL REVIEW of supplies of No. 4 wheat is under way with a view to seeing whether this lower grade of wheat could be used for domestic feed purposes can be diverted for export," said Mr. King.

"There are also being taken measures to encourage the use of domestic supplies of seed available for export wherever domestic supply situation permits."

Of the much-discussed question of the 1945 wheat average, Mr. King said:

"Care has to be taken that further expansion in any one field of production does not hamper our output of other necessary foodstuffs which we are exporting in large quantities on Canadian farms."

"We would not be assisting the world situation by concentrating on great quantities of wheat products and thereby reducing the production of other foodstuffs for feed purposes. Coarse grains are already in relatively short supply. It is important that we have a steady supply of wheat for our livestock program."

MR. KING SAID the government wished to encourage production on the "most scientific basis possible in order to provide the maximum yield of foodstuffs over the next few years."

"So far as the overall picture is concerned, no further statement is required in respect of the target set in Dominion-provincial discussions last December for wheat average in 1946. (The figure set at that time was 23,416,100 bushels.)

"Our farm population is strongly urged to continue to strive for the greatest possible output of production of foodstuffs, and to plan their farming so as to produce the maximum quantity of food during the next three to four years."

"The Prime Minister said it was apparent that 'substantial' quantities of wheat are being kept on storage on Canadian farms."

"SOLELY AS AN URGENT measure designed to help during the present wheat shortage of wheat," he added, "it is proposed to encourage the use of wheat products in respect of wheat delivered by the farmers during the next few weeks in an effort to encourage immediate marketing of the surplus quantities of wheat held in storage on farms."

The details of these arrangements will be announced "at an early date."

amounts set aside for renewal, and payment of capital charges, are placed at $250,135.

During 1946 it is proposed to place $1,207,214 in the reserve fund for renewal and reserve accounts. This amount if slightly higher than the total set aside in these accounts during 1945.

DEPARTMENTAL expenditures for 1946 are estimated at $1,877,262, an increase of $173,727 over 1945. The total of $1,703,329 spent in 1945, an increase of approximately $88,000 in the fire department estimated, and in the police department the increase is approximately $35,000.

The fire department increase is accounted for by the institution as of July 1 this year of the three-platoon system which necessitates the employment of an additional 41 men in the department.

An increase of $10,000 for increases in the police department is accounted for by the increase in the 40-hour week for members of the force. The salaries for the 103 men to be employed on the force during 1946 is set at $223,216, an increase of $14,545 over 1945. The salaries paid members of the force was $191,494.

An increase of approximately $5,000 in the expenditures of the city architect's department is accounted for by the increase in technical personnel necessary to meet demands on the department created by the large amount of construction work being carried on by the city.

AN INCREASE of approximately $7,000 is expected in the cost of civil relief during 1946, and the children's allowances are expected to increase by $500.

Expenditures through the engineer's department are listed at approximately $28,000 higher than last year. Public works expenditures for this year will be $11,000 in excess of last year, street cleaning and scavenging will cost $6,000 more than 1945, and up-keep of parks and cemeteries $6,000 more than in 1945.

The capital expenditures for the five city departments are listed at approximately $2,000 higher than last year. of wheat and wheat products is to be encouraged.

Modification of regulations affecting bulk shipments of flour and feed is planned.

Priorities for transport of wheat export have been established.

Increased quantities of oats and No. 4 wheat to be made available for export if possible.

Wheat available for domestic milling is being reduced by 10 per cent on the basis of 1945 purchases.

Wheat for distilling is being reduced by 60 per cent on the basis of amounts used in 1945.

Special arrangements are being made to encourage immediate marketing of wheat stored on farms.

Of this program, the prime minister said:

"THE GOVERNMENT believes that, if productive efforts are maintained, the additional measures vigorously supported, and people of all professions and occupations alike, will make available the utmost quantity of foodstuffs of this nation. It is our belief that people can produce to help meet the needs of people in less fortunate parts of the world."

These steps, said Mr. King, were designed not only to maintain the country's present level of production but also "specifically to make it possible for the wheat available for export."

He said the 10-per cent reduction in wheat available for domestic milling was being made in order to release flour for export.

OBSERVERS SAW in this step a reduction in the wheat available for export of wheat products for Canadian consumers.

It should produce an extra 2,500,000 bushels of wheat during the next six months in the use of wheat products and in the use of wheat products.

After careful review, Mr. King said, he had decided to make a preference from the point of view of the country's food supply.

Any increase in the extraction rate in the milling of flour.

"WE STRONGLY URGED the Canadian people to eliminate waste in their use of wheat products to reduce their consumption thereof. The present step is a Canadian step in many alternatives and substitutes will permit us to get along on less bread and wheat products without any injury to the level of nutrition."

The food wasted by a good many families would keep a child alive in the use of wheat products.

The government is undertaking a publicity campaign designed to encourage the saving of wheat products.

Mr. King suggested if Canadian families would save their own home gardens, thereby increasing production of wheat products, it would be a good step.

"CAREFUL REVIEW of supplies of No. 4 wheat is under way with a view to seeing whether this lower grade of wheat could be used for domestic feed purposes can be diverted for export," said Mr. King.

"There are also being taken measures to encourage the use of domestic supplies of seed available for export wherever domestic supply situation permits."

Of the much-discussed question of the 1945 wheat average, Mr. King said:

"Care has to be taken that further expansion in any one field of production does not hamper our output of other necessary foodstuffs which we are exporting in large quantities on Canadian farms."

"We would not be assisting the world situation by concentrating on great quantities of wheat products and thereby reducing the production of other foodstuffs for feed purposes. Coarse grains are already in relatively short supply. It is important that we have a steady supply of wheat for our livestock program."

MR. KING SAID the government wished to encourage production on the "most scientific basis possible in order to provide the maximum yield of foodstuffs over the next few years."

"So far as the overall picture is concerned, no further statement is required in respect of the target set in Dominion-provincial discussions last December for wheat average in 1946. (The figure set at that time was 23,416,100 bushels.)

"Our farm population is strongly urged to continue to strive for the greatest possible output of production of foodstuffs, and to plan their farming so as to produce the maximum quantity of food during the next three to four years."

"The Prime Minister said it was apparent that 'substantial' quantities of wheat are being kept on storage on Canadian farms."

"SOLELY AS AN URGENT measure designed to help during the present wheat shortage of wheat," he added, "it is proposed to encourage the use of wheat products in respect of wheat delivered by the farmers during the next few weeks in an effort to encourage immediate marketing of the surplus quantities of wheat held in storage on farms."

The details of these arrangements will be announced "at an early date."

Elizabeth Woodward Says . . .

YOU'RE BEING USED AS A GOOD THING

Your friend Sue is not permitted to date with Tony. Her parents have flatly put both feet down. They've had more than one ruckus over at their house . . . but Sue is not daunted. She's going to see Tony anyhow. And she's been doing it right along. Meeting him downtown in the afternoon. But she wanted to go places with him in the evening.

Heavy parents trying to squeeze young love sort of thing. So sure you'd help. She could meet Tony at your house. Your parents didn't know she was restricted. They'd never

Vets' Priority In Auto Buying Protested Here

That existing regulations governing granting of priorities for purchase of trucks and cars were regarded as unfair by many war veterans was contended at the regular monthly meeting of Edmonton Canadian Legion branch No. 24 Sunday afternoon when a resolution urging priorities for all veterans on such purchases was passed unanimously.

IT WAS ALLEGED that many ex-servicemen are prevented from rehabilitating themselves because of existing clauses of the regulations that make it necessary for a veteran to have owned a truck or car prior to the war before he can secure a priority.

Following is the resolution approved after considerable discussion during which it was charged that in some cases new cars are being obtained by men who never served in the war.

Whereas at the present time it is impossible for an ex-serviceman or woman to obtain either a truck or car owing to the fact that priorities are only granted to those men who were the owners of such vehicles prior to the war, and whereas many of these men were at school, or since returning from service have found their former positions do not exist, as regular businesses have folded up, and it is resolved that priorities be granted to ex-servicemen for the purchase of such vehicles in order that they may become re-established at their various convenience and thereby do away with the present discrimination against veterans.

ANOTHER RESOLUTION, seeking a change to present regulations was passed as follows:

"Whereas at the present time the Motor Vehicle Act does not allow any money accumulated to a pensioner before his death in hospital to be paid into his estate;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion urge upon the Canadian pension commission to amend paragraph 20, section 4, so as to read that any pension or balance of pension due to a deceased pensioner at the time of his death shall form part of the estate of the deceased pensioner."

The housing problem came back on the stage at the meeting with another resolution calling for a federal low-cost housing program being immediately instituted with priority for veterans.

PRESIDENT GYNNIE and GEORGE GLEAVE, reporting for a committee interviewing Mayor Harry Ainlay on the question of preference for war veterans in all city appointments, said the committee was convinced that Mayor Ainlay would do his utmost on behalf of war veterans applicants for city posts.

"The committee came away from the interview convinced that we have a mayor who will stand behind the ex-servicemen at all times on the matter of preference," Mr. Gleave declared.

Mayor Ainlay told the committee to canvass veterans for applicants to 15 civil engineering posts that the city will throw open to the public when the extra fire platform becomes operative.

Temporary wartime appointments of non-war veterans are being ended at a speed consistent with public safety, it was stated. Present membership of the Ed-

Gets Appointment Hospital Board Seeks $100,000 For Extension

City commissioners will be asked to vote $100,000 as capital expenditure for the extension and furnishing of a front extension to the Royal Alexandra Hospital and to call for tenders, it was decided Friday at a meeting of the hospital board.

DR. A. F. ANDERSON, superintendent, pointed out that the overall cost of construction would be about $75,000, but taking into account the amount necessary to purchase equipment and furnishings the additional amount would be required.

Advantages of the new extension were that it would accommodate 19 additional beds and an improved emergency ward, besides more pleasant and commodious waiting rooms, better appearance and general utility.

Blueprint drawings prepared by G. H. Macdonald, architect, were viewed, and at the last meeting of the property committee were explained by J. A. Cowan of Mr. Macdonald's office.

TOTAL COST of operation of the hospital was up slightly in February over January. The January figure was $67,848.48, and for February $68,658.48.

Attendance will be limited to 300, tickets to be sold on a first-come, first-served basis.

Medical and surgical supplies continued to show increased costs the report showed.

Cash position at the end of February showed that the hospital was left with a deficit of $12,625. This, the report said, was $8,000 more than it would have been had the provincial government remitted payments for maternity and tuberculosis for the month of January.

Next meeting of the board will be Thursday, April 18.

LAST YEAR, ACCORDING to figures released by Red Cross headquarters, Edmonton and Northern Alberta raised more than $450,000 for Red Cross work. Saturday the total was less than $250,000, considerably below the $225,000 which the local committee hoped to raise.

The campaign will last until the end of next week. Mr. Settle declared that "it is not a new spirit of generosity that we need; it is a need to carry that same spirit into peacetime thinking."

EDMONTON WIFE urged to "speed the work of the voluntary campaign workers by sending a subscription to the Red Cross." There is no house-hold campaign in the current drive. Donations should be left at the temporary headquarters of the Red Cross in the Sterling Shoe Store, 1010 Jasper avenue, or at the permanent office, 508 Bank of Commerce building.

Were there many extra claim payments last year due to the war?
Would longer life for policyholders reduce the cost of life insurance?
In what types of investments did the Company put its money?
In addition to answering these and many other questions, the report gives a financial summary of the Company's operations during 1945. Whether or not you are a policyholder, you will find this report interesting and informative. ## Gain Is Recorded in Membership Of Edmonton Women's Musical Club

Membership in the Women's Musical Club increased by 29 over the previous year, according to a report filed at the annual meeting held Saturday afternoon at the Masonic Temple. Club members heard of a successful year of activity, and especially of an unusually fine season experienced by the Celebrity Series of Concerts which they sponsored.

MRS. H. S. CRAIG, who had been elected by acclamation two weeks previously to the presidency for a second term was in the chair. Six vacancies on the executive created by the automatic expiration of the terms of the incumbents were filled by the election of the following: Mrs. A. Bisset, Mrs. Le Roy Dodge, Mrs. Orval Doney, Mrs. Zelma Myers Hodges, Mrs. A. W. Maclellan and Mrs. Herbert Patterson.

OFFICERS OTHER than the president, will be selected by the new, and continuing executive members from among themselves. In her presidential report, Mrs. Craig said, "The year now closing has been most successful both artistically and financially." She said that the club had been able to make donations to the Edmonton Philharmonic Society, the Red Cross, the Navy Mothers' Club and Air Force Mothers' Club and had provided a scholarship for Shirley Neiser, Edmonton soprano.

SHE ALSO POINTED out that artists who had taken part on regular club programs this season, had been given small honorariums to cover out-of-pocket expenses incurred through their appearances. She thanked all who had given assistance in operation of the club.

Mrs. Orval Doney, submitting her secretarial report, stated that there were 30 adult and 28 student members for an overall total of 58, which represented a gain of 29 over the previous year.

There were 11 club programs, including two guest recitals during the year. The executive had held 13 meetings.

IN HER TREASURER'S report, Mrs. A. W. Maclellan said that receipts from fees amounted to $6150.50 and door receipts totaled $207. The club's revenue from operation of the previous year's Celebrity Series had been $11,064.33. These represented the largest revenue items. Expenditures included $475 for guest artists, $752.00 for donations and $1193.50 for rentals.

Reporting on the Celebrity Series, Mrs. Ernest Meaden, director, said that as the 12th season of the series ended the looked forward to a completed season. There had been a complete sell-out of reserved seats for the season and the waiting list was increasing.

"I AM SORRY that we cannot accommodate all who want to attend, but limitation of space prevents that and we can't rectify that until we get a larger auditorium, which I am afraid will not be for some time yet," she said.

She pointed out that as the Celebrity Series had concluded only the night before, it was impossible to give a final report, as there were some accounts outstanding, which could not be completed until this week.

However, she could assure members that the balance sheet would be favorable.

SHE POINTED out that this year's series had cost $900 more than the previous season in artists' fees and indications were that less next year would be even higher.

While names of the artists who will come next year are not yet available she recalled that the series will consist of eight concerts, six in the regular subscription series offered to the general public and two "added" which will be the basis of "first come first served." One of the "extras" will be in the fall and the other in February.

A REPORT on the trust fund was submitted by Miss K. H. Candy, who also moved that next year, three of the club's regular meetings be held in the evening as against two for this year.

After the business agenda had been cleared, the meeting was concluded with a tea.

Urges U.S. Legion

R. M. Winegardner, above, Washington Courthouse, Ohio, attorney, urges creation of an "American Foreign Legion" to relieve GIs of foreign occupation duty. Patented after the famed French Legion, it would also enlist former Allied soldiers with good military records.

University Music Club Ends Season

The slate of officers for the 1941-42 University Musical Club executive was elected at Sunday evening's concert and annual meeting at Convocation hall. Members of the new executive will be: President, Norris Bertrand; vice-president, Frances Kitchin; secretary, treasurer, Sara Pearson; and student assisting body, June Sigward, John Henry, and Ted Lindskog.

Sunday night's performance was the closing one for this season's and was one of the finest to be put on by the club. The attendance, however, was much smaller than usual.

Prof. L. H. Nichols played the following selections on the Memorial organ in Convocation Hall: Allegro from Baroksky's 3rd Sonata; Benedictus; Kyrie-Elect; Northen Lights; Torquatus; Maestro, Basil Harwood.

Ruth Drew, one of the leading sopranos in the University Mixed Chorus, sang the following numbers: The Kerry Dance, J. L. Molloy; Hear My Prayer, Mendelssohn; Inez D'Appolina was Miss Doney's accompanist.

An accomplished violinist, Ted Lindskog, accompanied by Irene Lindskog, played Recitative Fantasia from Cesar Franck's Sonata in A, On Wings of Song by Achorn-Mendelssohn, and Abenallied by Natchez.

The Rev. Donald Fairfax, baritone, accompanied by Thomas Laroc, chose as his selections: Thou Art Beside Me, by Schubert; I Will Not Grieve by Schumann; My Soul's Been Anchored in the Lord, arranged by Florence Rice.

Following the program, the club executive and guest artists were entertained at the home of Professor and Mrs. L. H. Nichols.

Road Ahead

tional Employment Service were supposed to help them find employment, and they hadn't done it. Therefore "these agencies were just plain no good as far as the men were concerned."

It was noted, too, that most of the men who turned down employment opportunities because they preferred to wait until something better turned up, were driven to that action by the fact that they were paying such high rents that on the wages offered they just couldn't have made a go of it. Therefore they were living on savings and gratuities and hoping for something good enough to enable them to get by. Those who seemed to be just drifters had a history of having been drifters in civilian life before the war.

SINGLE MEN SEEM to be more restless and discontented than married men and more apt to "shop" around hoping to find a better job. Part of this restlessness is because many of them want a job that will enable them to get married.

Of the unemployed, only about one-third had applied for out-of-work benefits. Half of the men didn't even know they were entitled to receive them, or didn't know how to apply. Biggest reason for not asking, in cases where the men knew they could get them, was because they "didn't want charity."

There was no indication that any of the men felt that the "government owed them a living." What they all wanted was "a break in some decent chance for the future." They felt if they could just "get a start" with some chance of improving their position by their own efforts that everything would be alright. But because of their homesick anxiety to find a job, it seems that there is a definite tendency for them to come to the conclusion that "nobody cares a damn" when jobs or opportunities aren't forthcoming.

OF THE FOUR-FIFTHS of the men who were employed only half of them considered they were "settled." The report states "the spirit of these individuals is wholesome. Most of those enjoying favorable actual and prospective conditions are satisfied. A considerable portion of the less-favored half are satisfied, or at least indulgently resigned, even though their circumstances are, objectively far from a reasonable level of opportunity with their actual capabilities and potentialities."

It was found that only a few men were actually using their gratuities to pay living expenses. Most of them considered this a "nest egg" to be kept for future use in an emergency or to buy or furnish a home.

ALTHOUGH MANY of the men accepted the situation in which they found themselves, they were disappointed that they hadn't received a "break" which would have permitted them hope for the future. Only a few of them employed showed a tendency toward bitterness.

"Smallest Boy" Is Out of Hospital

Features in The Edmonton Bulletin

SPRITZ RIVER, March 15.—Baby Wayland Royce Scott, who weighed only four and one-half pounds at birth, has been taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Scott, after having been in hospital since Dec. 9. Born prematurely, he contracted yellow jaundice soon after birth and lost one pound of his precious fur.

The careful attention of Dr. C. M. Law and Sisters of the Holy Cross hospital brought the infant round to health. He was the centre of attraction at the hospital where he was the smallest baby ever born. He gained daily to the weight of seven pounds, four ounces at three months. According to the proud parents, the baby eats well and sleeps well. He is being raised on condensed milk.

The infant has two brothers, Gayfield E. and Buddy J., and one sister, Beverly S.

Barking Saves Men From Enraged Bull

BRIDGEWATER, N.S., March 15.—(C.P.)—Ping—a nine-month-old Newfoundland dog—probably saved the lives of Arthur Weagle, 56, and Gordon Mosher, 24, on a farm here Saturday when his barking distracted the attention of an infuriated bull. The bull had gored the two men in the chest and ribs. The men escaped to safety when the dog's barking diverted the bull's attention.
